

Film of Tosca in the original locations in Rome with Placido Domingo and Catherina Malfitano

Wednesday 17 May at 6 pm

2nd floor, 55 Exhibition Road, London SW7 2PN

Contemporary Rome is the setting for this unique and highly innovative version of Puccini's Tosca, performed in the Roman locations - and at the times of day - as Puccini had written into his score. Thus the action opens in the beautiful 16th-century church of Sant'Andrea della Valle at noon, where Cavaradossi (Domingo) is painting a portrait, moves to the Farnese Palace that evening where Tosca (Catherine Malfitano) dramatically stabs the lustful Scarpia (Ruggero Raimondi), and finally to the battlements of the Castel Sant'Angelo at dawn the following day where the final drama is played out.

A glass of wine will be served before the film and, for those interested, dinner will be served in the Ognisko restaurant after the performance.

Cost: £20 members and friends
 £25 guests
 Dinner will cost £30 to include 2 courses and wine
